Two Big Volumes on The Rothschilds

THE HOUSE OF ROTHSCHILD

Book I— Money's Prophets: 1798-1848

Oxford scholar Niall Ferguson's House of Rothschild: Money's Prophets 1798-1848 uncovers the secrets behind the phenomenal economic success of the Rothschild family and reveals for the first time the details of the family's vast political network. The Rothschilds created and dominated the modern international bond market and pioneered the art of high-speed communication. Their dominance as a political and financial force was such that few governments resisted turning to the family in times of crisis. "Money is the God of our time," wrote Heinrich Heine, "and Rothschild is his prophet." The author was granted unrestricted access to the three surviving Rothschild archives—including documents hidden for more than half a century—and has synthesized material from tens of thousands of letters, including many in hitherto untranslated Yiddish. The author also explores the profound role of Judaism in the lives of the Rothschilds. House of Rothschild: Money's Prophets ($19, softcover, 519 pages, indexed). Order Item #361A.

THE HOUSE OF ROTHSCHILD

Book II— The World's Banker: 1849-1999

The first book in this biography (described above) was hailed as one of the top ten books of 1998 by Business Week. Now author Niall Ferguson follows the family from Crimea to World War II and beyond. The wars of the late 19th and early 20th century repeatedly threatened the stability of the Rothschilds' world empire. Despite these many global upheavals, theirs remained the biggest bank in the world up until WWI, their interests extending far beyond the realm of finance. Yet the Rothschilds' failure to establish themselves successfully in the United States proved fateful, and, as financial power shifted from London to New York, their power waned. This brilliant and enthralling two-volume family saga is a must for anyone who wants to understand the incredible power that comes with unending wealth. House of Rothschild: The World's Banker ($19, softcover, 542 pages, indexed). Order Item #361B.

Both Books as a Set: Item #361C — $37.95.

The Most Comprehensive Book Ever Assembled on Adolf Hitler's Architectural Modern Marvel

The New German Reichschancellery

Hitler's Reichschancellery in Berlin, built by acclaimed architect Albert Speer in just 12 months, was one of the most amazing buildings in modern world history. This book records a rare, in-depth look into the little-known palace that was for a few short years the seat of the most powerful secular ruler in the history of Europe. Cowdery and Cowdery have brought you all aspects of planning, building and furnishing the Reichschancellery and discuss in detail the architecture, sculptures, landscaping, interior decorating, layout, size, furniture, details, contractor advertising, paintings, rugs and rare marbles. Comprehensive documentation also covers: a complete illustrated history of the amazing edifice, a room-by-room illustrated tour, explanation of the function of the Reichschancellery, more than 140 period and modern photos, 55 color illustrations, 47 full-page illustrations, maps and drawings, large, colorful endpaper maps of Berlin, 11-by-28-inch foldout of Reichschancellery floor plan, view and sectional drawings, illustrated bibliography, biographical biographies and quotes from artists, Reichschancellery postage stamps, information on the guard quarters of Hitler's guard, the wanton destruction of the Reichschancellery by the Soviets and more. Hardback, 8.5 x 11 format, 125 pages plus plans, #364, $39.95.

POST-WWII COMMUNIST ATROCITIES AGAINST EUROPE

Voices of Loss and Courage, compiled by B. U. Neary and H. Schneider-Riggs. The editors or their families, now living and holding professional positions in education in the United States, experienced the great expulsion from their homelands in central and eastern Europe after 1945. For many centuries their ancestors lived in Prussia, Brandenburg, Silesia, Sudetenland and other areas until the expulsion by the communists, with the approval of the Western Powers, made them suffer terrible atrocities. These are voices of survivors of communist crimes; they give their moving accounts of the fate that befell them. Foreword by Alfred M. deZayas. With illustrations. #342, softcover, 221 pgs., $24.50.

THE SAGA OF THE LIBERTY

June 8, 1967: America's most sophisticated intelligence-gathering vessel—virtually unarmed—was subjected to six hours of relentless assault in international waters, leaving the USS Liberty with 821 rocket and cannon holes, thousands of 50-caliber armor-piercing bullets in her hull, a tunnel-sized torpedo hole in her side and the residue of napalm on the decks. 34 Americans were brutally slaughtered and 172 badly wounded. But by the end of the massacre, the cover-up had begun.

Filmmaker Tito Howard presents the result of thirty years of tireless investigative work in one incredible video that once and for all answers those who say: "It just could not have been."

Howard gives you eyewitness accounts, archival film footage, background information and "on-the-record" statements that detail the unprovoked, inhuman Israeli attack upon a U.S. naval vessel and her crew.

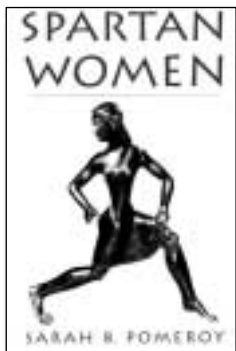

Loss of Liberty, 1 hour, color and black and white, VHS, Item #1037B, $30.

Ancient Mysteries & Peoples of the Past

Spartan Women, by Sarah B. Pomeroy. The first book ever published about the women of Sparta covering this much ground is a well-laid out study, readable and extremely interesting. Books about Sparta almost always deal with powerful men and glorious battles, but the Spartan women's role is rarely mentioned. Because of the warriors' histories, where bravery was the most important attribute, no one realized that at one point in time women represented the majority of heirs to estates and controlled a great deal of property. Their sons and husbands had been killed in battles, Sparta was doomed, but the women continued on, continuing that once-great culture. #337, softcover, 198 pgs., $20.

The Thirteenth Tribe, by Arthur Koestler. First published in 1976, this classic became a shocker to the Jewish establishment, written by one of their own. The prolific author traces the history of the ancient Khazar Empire whose citizens converted to Judaism in the Dark Ages.

#6, softcover, 255 pgs., $13.95.

Lost Civilizations of the Stone Age, by Richard Rudgley, Oxford trained scholar, specializing in the Stone Age. He tells us that Stone Age man performed delicate medical operations and "cave men" used artistic techniques not seen again until the Renaissance. Lots more amazing, little-known facts about our far-distant ancestors. #334, softcover, 310 pgs., $15.

The Ancient Celts, by Barry Cunliffe—Fierce warriors and skilled craftsmen, the Celts were famous throughout the ancient Mediterranean world, feared by both Greeks and Romans. The book pays tribute to Celtic economic prowess, revealing how the civilization shrewdly took advantage of Europe's tin, copper and gold resources to become a trading partner with Rome. It was a world of skilled artisans who forged some of the greatest weaponry of antiquity. A common-bond Celtic ancestry is shared by virtually every European. Lovely color pictures of artifacts and tools used in Celtic life. A gift-quality book. Many maps and color plates. Deluxe edition. #86, hardback, 360 pgs., $49.95.

Ancient Mysteries, by P. James and Nick Thorpe—A great adventure in reading. The two authors, historians and anthropologists, have done yeoman's work compiling evidence to answer the riddles of the past. With carbon-dating, DNA testing and all-modern technology, they have come up with answers, but also acknowledge other interpretations. Their subjects range from: Did a Welsh prince discover America?; What was the Minotaur?; How does the star of Bethlehem fit into the science of astronomy? to: The rise and fall of the Maya; A lost cache of the Dead Sea Scrolls; and, The curse of Tutankhamun. The authors also apply a good dose of common sense in arriving at their conclusions. Great reading! #221, hardback, 650 pgs., $29.95.

The Oxford History of Medieval Europe, edited by George Holmes. Western Civilization was created in Medieval Europe and by the 1300s was the most advanced in the whole world. The book covers 1000 years of history, chapter by chapter. A great deal of information is presented very readably. #340, softcover, 392 pgs., $17.

Norse Mythology, by John Lindow. The author specializes in Scandinavian medieval studies and folklore. A great reference book to have and a book to pass on to children and grandchildren who have little knowledge of the beliefs of our pre-Christian ancestors. #339, softcover 364 pages $19.

Ancient Religious Roots

The Origins of Christianity by Revilo P. Oliver—A staunch conservative—known for his political activism—an iconoclast who did not mince words, Prof. Oliver carries the credentials for dealing with the subject of religion. Devoting the last years of his life to the in-depth study of the Christian religion, right down to its roots in the Middle East, he analyzes its many mutations passed through since the days of the Romans. New edition. #309, softcover, 209 pages, $15.

Religious Attitudes of the Indo-Europeans by Hans F.K. Guenther—This well-known volume, newly reprinted, puts Prof. Guenther back on our bookshelves. He reflects on the religion of the Indo-European-speaking peoples. Comparing Indian, Persian, Slavic, Teutonic and other people's religions, he identifies specific attitudes of the Indo-Europeans. A true classic. #308, softcover, 112 pages, $12.

The End of Days: Fundamentalism and the Struggle for the Temple Mount by Gershom Gorenberg. The cultural and historical insanity that has been spawned by Christian, Muslim and Jewish fundamentalists is the topic of this thoughtful and prescient work. The author is Jewish and lives in Israel, a journalist whose probing and astute observations raise the spectre of a dim future for everyone. He describes the impact of the Falwells and Robertsons, the Osama Bin Ladens, the Sharons and many more, such as the Rothschilds, the Kahanes, the whole unhealthy mix of global politics and what they portend for a very violent future. #359, softcover, 275 pages, $16.

REVISIONIST LOOKS AT AMERICAN HISTORY

Lone Star Justice, The First Century of the Texas Rangers, by Robert M. Utley. The author, former chief historian of the National Park Service, writes a fast moving, highly enjoyable account of the legendary Rangers. From chasing Indians, Mexicans, train robbers and murderers, it is all covered. Our frontier was well protected then by brave men who were not "politically correct." #338, hardcover, 370 pgs., $30.

Populism vs. Plutocracy: The Universal Struggle is the only complete record of the history of American populism as embodied in the lives of America's populist heroes. Edited by Willis A. Carto, the founder of Liberty Lobby, this unique work shows that populism is much more than a counterfeit label for demagogic politicians to sew on their tattered and soiled garments. Today, with communism rightly perceived as failed and discredited, populism stands as the only obstacle in the world to economic and political slavery on the plutocrats' Global Plantation. #122, hardback, 290 pgs., $22.

"The Sage of Baltimore"

H.L. Mencken's Smart Set Criticism. A collection of Mencken's writings about everything from Emerson to Shaw and Twain, from teetotalers to psychoanalysts. Nothing remains unscathed. #348, softcover, 349 pgs., $15.

Treatise on the Gods, a tour de force by H.L. Mencken. The Sage of Baltimore was one of the greatest masters of "American English," and when he used it to discuss his vast historical knowledge with humor and insight, he simply is the best. An iconoclast, skeptic and non-believer, Mencken often ventured too far out for the taste of some by debunking almost everything. Still, he is infinitely better than anything offered today by the "in-crowd" of media favorites. We can learn a lot! #229, softcover, 319 pgs., $17.95.

From the "Radio Priest": Father Charles Coughlin

Antichrist: Twelve Timely Essays—Most of Father Charles Coughlin's essays were for all patriots of all nations, not only Catholics. Cognizant of how money power and political Zionism impacted on the well-being of humanity, his warnings of what the future would hold are even more poignant today than when he was the bane of FDR and Stalin. #41, softcover, 80 pgs., $10.

Books from Michael Collins Piper

Final Judgment: The Missing Link in the JFK Assassination Conspiracy, by Michael Collins Piper—This is the fifth edition of Piper's blockbuster book about the JFK assassination and the CIA/Mossad connection. Documentary proof that President John F. Kennedy was engaged in a secret war with Israel that led to his assassination. Dozens of exclusive photos and charts in a separate section. This is the book the ADL has tried unsuccessfully to ban. #7, softcover, 760 pgs., $25.

Best Witness, by Michael Collins Piper—A factual account of the infamous Mermelstein lawsuits, ending in victory for Revisionism. Shows how the self-styled "best witness" to the Holocaust self-destructed. #42, softcover, 237 pages, $10.

A Century of War: Anglo-American Oil Politics in the 20th Century, by F. William Engdahl—Details the importance of oil as a factor in almost every foreign policy decision made by the United States and Britain. The book reveals how this Anglo-American New World Order has been shaped around the invisible thread of strategic petroleum and raw materials control. #12, softcover, 282 pgs., $19.95.

The Consequences of U.S. Imperialism

Blowback—The Costs and Consequences of American Empire, by Chalmers Johnson. The respected and well-known author whose special field is Asia writes a devastating account of American foreign policies, its global scale and expansion to control other countries. Published before 9/11, it shows us the road to resentment and disaster. #331, softcover, 268 pgs., $15.

Uncensored American History FROM THOMAS GOODRICH

Scalp Dance: Indian Warfare on the High Plains, 1865-1879, by Thomas Goodrich—Drawing heavily from diaries, letters and memoirs, this historian weaves a spell-binding web of life and death on the prairie. Individual fates are recounted, each a drama that should be told. The book deals in part with the brutality with which the Indians treated their enemies. Most of this is glossed over today in history books, but here you can learn the truth and pass it on. Victims were Indians and Whites. Indian warfare is recounted as it really happened, not as Hollywood dreamed it up. #210, hardback, 340 pgs., $32.95.

The Day Dixie Died: The Occupied South 1865-1866, by Thomas and Debra Goodrich. Starting with the assassination of Lincoln, the authors trace the history of Reconstruction, the death, destruction, crime, starvation, exile and anarchy that pervaded those terrible years. Many photos. #273, hardcover, 320 pgs., $26.95.

On the Life & Times of Adolf Hitler

Hitler's Priestess, by Nicholas Goodrick-Clarke—Under her adopted name, Savitri Devi, she became known by friend and foe alike as Hitler's Priestess, an unapologetic admirer of Hitler. This colorful study of a firebrand paints a fascinating portrait of a significant and but little known woman who was a legend in her own time. The author is critical, but still is fascinated. Limited supply. #322a, 269 pgs., hardcover $60. #322b, softcover, $30.

Hitler's Headquarters, by Aaron L. Johnson—Over 350 photos illustrate the most in-depth discussion of Hitler's WWII headquarters. 235 pages of fascinating information assembled in one volume for the first time. The book takes you into the bunkers where Hitler conducted the German military effort. #204, hardback, 239 pgs., $35.95.

Mein Kampf—This book needs no introduction. Although available through bookstores, TBR BOOK CLUB has decided to include it on its book list. #123, quality hardcover, 384 pgs., $25.

Hitler's Jewish Soldiers, by Bryan Mark Rigg—This is a unique historical record which might never be republished. The author—an American Jew who volunteered with the Israeli Army—goes out of the way to accuse Hitler of the Holocaust. But the real issue of the book, the conclusion that 150,000 soldiers of partly Jewish ancestry served in the German Army during WWII, is dynamite. He also makes a point that these Jewish soldiers as well as the German people did not know of the so-called holocaust, but Hitler did! Many pictures of Jewish soldiers and officers, a most unusual collection. #330, hardcover, 443 pgs., $29.95.

Hitler: The Man & the Military Leader, by Percy Ernst Schramm. The author, a well-known German historian, functioned as the official war diarist for Hitler. "Hitler: The Man" comprises one part of the book, "The Military Leader" the other. In spite of the author's unabashed bias, this is a revealing book that students of World War II will savor. #327, softcover, 214 pages, $16.

Hitler and His Generals, by Helmut Heiber. Verbatim military conference notes of the high command of the Wehrmacht, taken down in these meetings between 1942-45. Now available in English. A rare collector's classic. #354, hardcover, 1,159 pages, $42.

Hitler's Vienna, by Brigitte Hamann—The author, an Austrian historian, gives a very fair accounting in this book subtitled: "A Dictator's Apprenticeship." The carefully written, indexed and footnoted account of young Hitler's life before WWI contributes to the understanding of this unusual man. The author does not succumb to the ritual political correctness and hatred usually demanded by publishers and reviewers. With careful attention to detail she follows Hitler's friends, activities, thoughts, philosophy and even his ancestry. #310, softcover, 482 pgs., $18.95.

At Hitler's Side: Memoirs of Hitler's Luftwaffe Adjutant in World War II. Nicholas von Below was 29 years old, a pilot, when Goering selected him to be Hitler's Luftwaffe adjutant. Having been with Hitler all through the war, he gives a first-hand account of Hitler's inner circle and his headquarters. He gives insight in what Hitler thought of the British and Americans and how he planned the invasions of Poland and the Soviet Union. Many pictures. #301, hardcover, 256 pgs., $29.95.

Hitler's Table Talk, 1941-1944, with a highly biased preface by Hugh Trevor Roper. It can easily be skipped because he includes Rauschning's fake memoirs when evaluating Hitler. The book is a great historical record that belongs in every book collection of truth seekers. Hitler's words, taken down verbatim on Bornmann's insistence, stand on their own. #333, hardcover, 746 pgs., $32.

Julius Streicher, by Randall L. Bytwerk. Known as the "world's Jew-baiter no. 1," even during his lifetime, Streicher was nevertheless a real human being whose biography, although not sympathetic, gives a fascinating view of the propaganda modus operandi of the Third Reich. Frequently outrageous, he had his paper Der Stürmer suspended at times by Hitler because of the extreme language used. Streicher was loyal to Hitler until they hanged him in Nuremberg. He was a great speaker and it is clear that he was totally convinced that the Jews were "Germany's misfortune." This is a good historical record from the early twenties until 1945. #326, softcover, 246 pgs., $18.

Rare Books—Newly Reprinted—Straight from Third Reich Archives!

The following three books are reprinted in the United States from original German books in English published during the National Socialist regime.

Look At Germany, written in 1936 by American Stanley McClutchie. Returning to Germany for the Olympics in Berlin, the new Germany impressed him so that he drew from Hitler's photographer Hoffman the pictures and added descriptions to them. Over 300 unique photos with text of all aspects of German life. A great document. #355, laminated softcover, 240 pgs., $30.

Hitler's Native Land, by Roy & Josephine Cowdery. Published originally in Linz in 1938 to celebrate the political union of Austria and Germany, it depicts towns, people and places connected with the childhood of Adolf Hitler. Read Hitler's family tree; follow his travels as a young man and much more. Updated with current photos of that region. Published with a thorough English translation. #356, oversized, 96 pgs., $20.

Ich Kaempfe (I Fight) A reproduction of a 100-page handbook given to each new member of the Nazi party in 1943. Explaining the political and racial program and the duties of every German, party member or not, it is a testament to the success of the pan-national movement. Most of these books were burned after the war, with few left. #357, softcover, 144 pgs., oversized, $20.

Reinhard Heydrich: Assassination, by Cawdery and Vadenka, published in 1994. Here's the story of the life and death of Reinhard Heydrich. His success as a great administrator, as an accomplished linguist and musician, in addition to his other talents, are covered. The story of his assassination is incredible, from commandos parachuted into Czechoslovakia to the aftermath of their successful mission to kill him. It is supportive of the Czech side but balanced. 125 rare photos. #358, 110 pages, oversized, softcover, $20.

Books from the Master of Secret Archives . . . Gregory Douglas

The Uncensored History of "The Gestapo Chief"

Gestapo Chief, Volume I—Contains information on Churchill's cold-blooded assassinations of Admiral Darlan and Polish Chief of State Sikorsky; the text of secret trans-atlantic conversations of FDR and Churchill regarding their foreknowledge of the attack on Pearl Harbor; and more. #5, hardback, 287 pgs., $35.95.

Gestapo Chief, Volume II—The candid details of: Stalin's plans to kill FDR; lists of communist moles in the U.S. government, including three cabinet secretaries; the truth about why Rudolf Hess flew to England and his brutal treatment by the British; the communist murder of Mussolini and more. #6, hardback, 288 pages, $35.95.

Gestapo Chief, Volume III—This volume covers the interrogations of gestapo Chief Heinrich Mueller. It is a must for those who have purchased the first two books to complete the trilogy. Recently discovered documents prove that Mueller was working for U.S. Intelligence. Read of Stalin's purges as well as details of Swiss bank accounts looted by the CIA. A mind-boggling tour de force. #71, hardback, 286 pgs., $35.95.

Gestapo Chief Heinrich Mueller's Journals, Vol. I—Journal entries in Mueller's diaries were the source of this new book. Gregory Douglas has been doing yeoman's work compiling this information. Although devoted mostly to Mueller's private affairs, it should put to rest the doubts of those who have not recognized the important part he played after the war in Washington, D.C., knowing where the bodies were buried. Brought to the U.S. by the CIA after the war, he ostensibly worked for Army Intelligence. A controversial man, government sources will not admit that he even lived in the United States. He died in 1983. #168, hardback, 271 pgs., $35.95.

SPECIAL GESTAPO CHIEF COMBO PRICE!

Special Gestapo Chief combo offer: Buy any two books for $60, three for $90, all four $120.

Gregory Douglas Shows You Just Who Killed JFK

Regicide: The Official Assassination of John F. Kennedy, by Gregory Douglas. The author is not the first investigator to accuse the CIA of the assassination of JFK, nor will he be the last. However, he offers evidence from official secret files to document the charge. Loaded with reproductions of official documents that will make your head spin. A must addition to any conspiracy buff's library. #320, hardcover, 223 pgs., $19.95.

WARNING: POLITICALLY INCORRECT!

Controversial Treatises by Professor Kevin MacDonald

Book #1: A People That Shall Dwell Alone: Judaism as a Group Evolutionary Strategy. This copiously documented scientific work forms the basis for our understanding of Jewish-Gentile relations and the responsibility of Jews themselves for anti-Semitism. #113A, softcover, $38; #113, hardback, 320 pgs., $65.

Book #2: Separation and its Discontents: Toward an Evolutionary Strategy of Anti-Semitism. The author views anti-Semitism as the logical and inevitable outcome of Jewish policies of self-isolation and intervention into the affairs of other groups. #114, hardback, 330 pgs., $48.

Book #3: The Culture of Critique: An Evolutionary Analysis of Jewish Involvement in Twentieth Century Intellectual and Political Movements. The third and final volume tackles the influence Jewish intellectuals have had among Gentiles in the social sciences, including anthropology, psychoanalysis and leftist political ideology. #128, softcover, 379 pgs., $28.

Billy Graham and his Friends, by Dr. Cathy Burns. This is an amazing book about the "doyen" of Christian evangelists. In this 788-page work, the author—who has many credits as a Christian writer—documents the incredible hypocrisy, un-Christian activities, subversive friends and profiteering of this "respected" member of the Christian community. #325, softcover, 788 pgs., $22.

The Dispossessed Majority—Under the pseudonym Wilmot Robertson, Humphrey Ireland, then-publisher of Instauration, wrote this classic. It tells us what to expect from America now that its former white majority no longer makes it tick. Profound and insightful, this should occupy a place in your library. TBR purchased Ireland's last copies and can sell them only while supplies last. #306, hardcover, 364 pgs., $25.

Ways That Are Dark—The Truth About China, by Ralph Townsend—Hear from a veteran American diplomat who lived side by side with the Chinese in the 1930s. Candid and highly readable. Find out the truth about the real Chinese people: Their legendary tolerance for pain; the squalor in which they live; the opium period; how China will never change; ancient Chinese tortures; their resistance to outside influences; and much more. More pertinent now than ever as Red China emerges as an unpredictable world superpower. #4, softcover, 336 pgs., $14.95. Reduced to $12.95.

Undue Process: The Untold Story of America's German Alien Internees, by Arnold Krammer, professor of history at Texas A&M University and the author of the highly acclaimed Nazi Prisoners of War in America. Most Americans know that the U.S. government forcibly uprooted and transported thousands of Japanese and Japanese Americans living on the West Coast to relocation camps during World War II.

The Brainwashing of the German Nation by Udo Walendy—It was Khrushchev who said that historians are dangerous people and have to be directed. Indeed, Walendy is dangerous because he refuses to accept the official historical lies of the German and Allied governments. For this crime, he is in jail today. In this short book Walendy describes the hidden truth of the "legal" origin of today's German laws, forced on a defeated people, now stripped of their history and their identity, brainwashed by their conquerors. #110, softcover, 64 pages, $8.95.

The Dartmoor Massacre by Vivian Bird—The affair was grisly. Seven Americans were killed and several more would die in the coming weeks from the more than a score that were wounded. No members of the British garrison were killed or injured in any way. Rumors circulated throughout the prison depicting Captain Shortland's attempts to hide and bury the dead before the prison doctor could produce a body count. Learn more about this British atrocity against American POWs during the War of 1812 in The Dartmoor Massacre. Also includes: a list of killed and wounded and how they died; the ships from which almost all were impressed by the Royal Navy; depositions from eyewitnesses on all sides; little-known details of the massacre; photos and diagrams. Softcover, 104 pages, Item #319, $9.95.

What American history has overlooked is that the same injustice was perpetrated against German aliens, including women and children, in federal prison camps without trials or the opportunity to appeal. Now, in the first book on this extremely important yet completely neglected topic, the shocking story of America's treatment of Germans during the war is revealed. Includes dozens of never-before-published photographs. #118, hardback, 210 pgs., $27.95.

Oswald Spengler

The Decline of the West by Oswald Spengler. This Spengler classic should be on everyone's bookshelf. Spengler's influence on 20th-century thought and his explanation of the life and death of a culture are timeless. As historian Charles Beard wrote in 1926: "Spengler should be read by all who are trying to grope their way in the dusk of evening or dawn." Abridged version, indexed. #166, softcover, 420 pages, $17.95.

Man and Technics by Oswald Spengler. This newly-printed volume is a very readable and succinct precis of the great historian's massive 1,000 page, two-volume classic The Decline of the West. Eschewing all sentimentality, Spengler relies on his signature realism, tough thinking and unique brilliance to show just where we are in the 20th century and where we are going in the 21st. Every page of this masterpiece glistens with ideas and insights, if you think you are up to it! #200, softcover, 104 pages, $7.50. Reduced to $6.50.

The Communist Menace & the Bloody Legacy of Bolshevism

The Black Book of Communism—Translated by Harvard University Press from the French. A team of French historians chronicles the crimes of communism wherever it has attained power in the world. The number of victims it has left behind boggles the mind and that is certainly not being taught at universities, or even high schools. The authors put the toll at between 85 and 100 million; many patriots have put that number higher. It became a bestseller in Europe when first published in 1997. #235, hardback, 1,120 pgs., $37.50.

The World Hoax, by E.F. Elmhurst—The author delves into the question: “Who sponsored communism?” Published in 1938, before the great conflagration of World War II, many of the answers have become self-evident. He accounts for the prevalence of American Jewish citizens who swarmed all over Russia when communism was forced onto that hapless country, bringing terrorism with them. A “Who’s Who” of the communist conspirators in the U.S. and a lesson for today. #137, softcover, 243 pgs., $12.

Stalin’s War of Extermination: 1941-1945, by Joachim Hoffmann—Subtitled “Planning, Realization and Documentation,” the book covers Stalin’s plan for a World Revolution by conquering Europe in a war of extermination. The German Army did everything in its power to stifle these plans and we all know the final disaster that befell Germany. When published in Germany in 1995, the book became a bestseller. One newspaper, The Berliner Morgenpost, stated it succinctly when writing: “Stalin conceived and accomplished his war against the German Reich as an extermination war of conquest. To this end, Hoffmann furnishes overwhelming data from German and Soviet archives.” #282, hardback, 415 pgs., $39.95.

Beasts of the Apocalypse, by Olivia M. O’Grady—First published in 1959, it is now being offered again after disappearing from bookshelves for years. Like an octopus, the socialist tentacles are far reaching and wide, all grabbing out for world government. The author puts the whole conspiracy into perspective and does so without apologies. She hoped that patriots would help to expose this un-Christian and un-American cabal that poisons all. #280, hardback, 470 pgs., $27.

Barbarians Inside the Gates, by Donn de Grand Pre—Col. Grand Pre, author of several books including Confessions of an Arms Peddler, has produced another terrific book. Barbarians is about the art of war and the conquering of submissive peoples by an alien enemy within. Since 1933 (and FDR) the United States has been slowly strangled by the progression of Bolshevization. The author deftly ties together the critical levers used to subjugate us: money, media, military, markets, medicine, mind and morals. This book pulls no punches and is not for the faint of heart. #236, hardback, 425 pgs., $29.95.

Books by Nesta Webster

This cultured, courageous English lady wrote a number of timely, timeless and amazingly prescient books now validated by history after 80 years of world convulsion. One of the best is World Revolution (1921). Fully indexed, it charts world revolutionary and conspiratorial movements and events. #57, softcover, 374 pages, $16.95. The other is Secret Societies (1924). Here’s a look into those shadowy secret societies that shape world events and control people’s lives from behind the scenes. Timeless classic! #58, softcover, 419 pgs., $16.95. SPECIAL: Buy both books for just $29.

The Holocaust: The World’s Foremost “Taboo” Subject

Auschwitz: The Final Count, edited by Vivian Bird—Arriving at authoritative and final figures, the diminished numbers of inmates who died at Auschwitz from all causes can no longer be seriously disputed. Includes monographs by Thies Christophersen, William Lindsey (on Zyklon B), Fred Leuchter and others. #67, softcover, 120 pgs., $12.95.

The Holocaust Industry, by Norman Finkelstein—Although the author, who taught at the University of New York, says that he “believes in the Holocaust,” he takes on the profitable Holocaust industry, showing the shameless greed of its promoters. This book has sent shock waves reverberating throughout the world of Jewish fundraising. It accuses Holocaust promoters of exaggerating and lying both by omission and straight-out prevarication. If written by a non-Jew, the author would have been savaged by the usual anti-Semitic smear; in fact, the book could never have been published. No new findings about “The Holocaust” here; just an accurate commentary on mendacious fundraisers and gullible suckers. #220, hardcover, 150 pgs., $23. #220A, softcover, 150 pgs., $13.

Where Truth is No Defense, by Dr. Fredrick Töben—The author, an Australian citizen when jailed in his former fatherland, Germany, for seven months in 1999, found sympathetic support all through the world for his plight. As director of the Adelaide Institute of Australia, Dr.

Töben has been an active Revisionist for many years. This finally caught up with him in Germany. While visiting a liberal prosecutor’s office in Germany, he was arrested for exercising free speech over the internet, a new crime in Germany which is only applied to Revisionists. He was sentenced to 10 months. The book is a personal account of his life as an activist, exploring many aspects of WWII and the Holocaust. The book represents the thoughts and beliefs of a special human being and needs to have our total attention. #271, softcover, 518 pgs., $35. Reduced to $25.

The Giant With Feet of Clay, by Juergen Graf—This intrepid Swiss scholar and researcher makes a devastating case against Raul Hilberg’s standard work on the Holocaust. The widely respected Prof. Hilberg, the dean of Holocaust studies, managed to write a 1,300 page tome entitled The Destruction of the European Jews in 1961 but only devoted 19 pages to describing the actual process of extermination. He relied mostly on unverified second- and third-hand rumors and other unreliable materials, now clearly debunked by modern science. Juergen Graf manages to demolish these myths in a book of 128 pages. Scholarly, dispassionately written, it is a devastating account of purposeful historical misinformation and outright falsehoods. #252, softcover, 128 pgs., $13.50. Reduced to $11.50.

Francis Parker Yockey

Dreamer of the Day: Francis Parker Yockey and the Post-War Fascist International—by Kevin Coogan. The name “Francis Parker Yockey” is probably known today to only several thousand of Americans at best. They know only that he was the author of a book called Imperium. Coogan’s book is a fascinating survey of Yockey’s wide-ranging career and of the colorful array of individuals in both the American “right” and “left” who intersected with Yockey during his heyday. Coogan, a liberal writer, is not sympathetic to Yockey or his milieu. Nonetheless he studied his subject closely and relied on a wide-ranging assembly of sources from all philosophical points of view to craft this most fascinating volume. #245, softcover, 644 pages, $19.95.

1688—A Global History by John E. Wills Jr. The author gives a fascinating view of history of the world of 1688 from Europe to the Far East, caravans of Muslims on their pilgrimage from Damascus and Cairo to Mecca, the alleys of Amsterdam with their crowds of vagrants and beggars. Everything finds a place in this book. A vivid picture of life in 1688, filled with terrifying violence, diseases, human kindness and the intellectual achievements of Leibniz, Locke and Newton. Great reading! #284, softcover, 352 pgs., $15.95.

The Renaissance Bazaar, by Jerry Brotton. The author, a lecturer at the University of London gives a slightly controversial account of the origins and accomplishments of this period in history. He expands the contributing factors into Islam, Africa and the Americas, focusing on the global aspects. The books should be read with an open mind. He makes a good case and we can learn something. #341, hardcover, 243 pgs., $30.

Hate

A New Book About Lincoln Rockwell

This 343-page, heavily indexed and footnoted book by William H. Schmalz is the story of George Lincoln Rockwell’s American Nazi Party. Although full of minor errors and, of course, very anti-Rockwell, the book gives a fascinating account of this unusual man: who he was; where he came from; his numerous exploits; and the gutsy men who surrounded him. Softcover, 388 pgs., #366, $17.95.

Triumph of Reason: The Thinking Man’s Guide to Adolf Hitler, by Michael Walsh. This power-packed volume is a carefully-organized and well annotated selection of the famed German leader’s views on a surprisingly wide variety of topics, excerpted from his speeches and writings—unlike anything yet seen in the English language. In 72 oversized pages in a handsome, quality-bound card cover, is found what might be termed “the best of Adolf Hitler.” Softcover, oversized at 8.5 x 11, 72 pages, lots of photographs, #369, $14.

Dissecting the Holocaust—2nd Edition

HOW RELIABLE are eyewitness accounts and the confessions of “the perpetrators”? What do population statistics reveal? Why has the infamous Buchenwald been removed from the list of extermination camps? This and many other questions about the Holocaust will be answered in this comprehensive volume. This is the standard by which all other works on the subject are judged, the most comprehensive work yet to appear dealing with the subject, the product of 10 years of investigation, the irrefutable scientific, historical and demographic facts gathered together in one volume—with contributions from 17 well-respected authors and scientists. Item #219—Dissecting the Holocaust: The Growing Critique of “Truth” and Memory—softcover, 620 pages, 8.5” x 11” format. Available June 2003. $29.95.

David Duke’s Latest Tome!

Controversial Louisiana politician David Duke—certainly no stranger to personal attack—has just finished another amazing tome. This one, entitled Jewish Supremacy, is another fine work from the author covering the ongoing threat of Zionism in the world and provides an exceptional history of Zionist influences on world events and culture. Love him or hate him, Duke has written a 380-page masterpiece that names names and lays blame where few others dare to. Quality hardcover, 360 pages, #367, $24.95.

Post-WWII Atrocities Against the German People

Gruesome Harvest by Ralph F. Keeling—A new reprint, this important little book is a must read for all. It is a detailed description of the implementation of the “Morgenthau Plan” for the deliberate starvation of German civilians, mainly women and children, immediately after World War II (1945–1947). The plan called for the elimination of the German nation, to turn their land into pastures, to destroy any industrial base for the future. #253, softcover, 123 pages, $5.95.

An Eye for an Eye, by John Sack, tells the little-known story of how after the liberation of the concentration camps in eastern Europe, the released Jews imprisoned 200,000 German women and children. These were innocent Germans who were killed for revenge. 80,000 died within a few months of incarceration. #213, softcover, 280 pages, $15.

Truth for Germany: The Guilt Question of the Second World War by Udo Walendy has been banned by the German government but is available in the U.S. Correspondence and dispatches among Roosevelt, Churchill and other politicians clearly paint a disturbing picture of Allied intentions toward the German nation before the outbreak of hostilities. #1, softcover, 530 pages, $20. #1a, hardcover, 530 pages, $28.

Transfer Agreement and Boycott Fever of 1933, by Udo Walendy. Before Israel could become a reality, it had to be populated. Many German Jews did not want to leave Germany when the Nazis came to power. The Zionists made a trade deal with Nazi Germany to bring more Jews to Palestine. The call by international Jewry to boycott German products left the German people in economic dire straits, causing anti-Semitism. Magazine format. #65, softcover, 40 pgs., $7.50.

The Wehrmacht Crimes Bureau, 1939–1945 by Alfred M. DeZayas—This credible historian looks at Allied war crimes real and imagined. The book views the subject through the eyes of the German Army’s office, set up to investigate alleged atrocities by troops in the field, to separate fact from propaganda. Many pictures and data of atrocities never reported in the Allied media or by historians. German war crimes are also cited. #196, softcover, 364 pages, $22.50.

Forged War Crimes, by Udo Walendy—A pictorial history of faked war crimes photos and the way they served to “prove” atrocities committed by the Germans. Recently, in Germany, a scandalous exhibit of “atrocities pictures” supposedly committed by the German army was exposed to be a hoax. Thousands of school children have been forced to attend this show, put on by Red “anti-fascists.” Exposing such lies earlier earned Walendy two jail terms. #27, softcover, 80 pgs., $12.

Other Losses: Investigation Into the Mass Deaths of German Prisoners by James Bacque—The first edition of this controversial book caused an international scandal in 1989 by revealing that almost 1 million German prisoners of war died of starvation and for lack of basic human necessities in American and French death camps after World War II. Millions of German survivors were appalled and turned the book into an international bestseller, while the U.S. and French governments attacked Bacque for exaggeration. None, however, could explain the mass deaths of these German ex-combatants. This extended edition presents relevant new material plus new evidence of the suppression of truth by academics, the press and the West. A real historical blockbuster that will make you cringe at the treatment received by prisoners supposedly protected by the Geneva Convention. #127, softcover, 288 pages, $20.95.

Crimes and Mercies: The Fate of German Civilians Under Allied Occupation by James Bacque, author of Other Losses—This book fully exposes the Allies’ hypocrisy concerning the Geneva Convention, genocide, racism and the starvation, persecution and cruel expulsion of over 9 million ethnic Germans at the end of World War II. Find out who planned this revenge against the German people and why, in this gripping account of the worst holocaust the Western world has ever known.

Includes a series of never-before-seen photographs. #108, softcover, 288 pages, $18.95.

Nemesis at Potsdam by Alfred de Zayas. The author gives a revealing account of the horrifying expulsion of 15 million German-speaking men, women and children from East Central Europe in the months after the end of WWII. Millions died during that expulsion. The story of that atrocity is now virtually unknown in the English-speaking world. No understanding of modern Germany will be complete without the knowledge of this ghastly period. Over 70 photos and maps. #116, softcover, 352 pages, $19.95.

Truth and Justice by Wolfgang Juchem—A brief summation of today’s Germany from the unique and unheard of perspective of German—not Jewish or English—history. The real roots of European fraternal hatred, falsified history, the Versailles diktat and the Holocaust-implanted guilt as a political weapon and much more. #44, softcover, 51 pages, $7.50

UDO WALENDY

Two Great Books by Populist Giant Eustace Mullins!

Secrets of the Federal Reserve—This well-known work explodes the myths surrounding the creation and manipulations of the greatest scam foisted upon the American people in history—the so-called “federal reserve.” Mullins points out that it is neither federal nor is it a reserve. Instead it is a private group of the nation’s banking elite who bilk taxpayers at every turn. A classic that has sold by the thousands. #312, hardback, 250 pages, $20.

The Rape of Justice—The author clears up any misconceptions ordinary citizens may still have about our contemporary legal system. Today we are not ruled by inviolable laws, established for the benefit of all. Today our laws are always being “interpreted” anew, and the influence of money and political power is the determining factor in getting “justice” in our courts. Legal subversion is the order of the day. #313, hardback, 535 pages, $20.

Enlightening Revisionist Subjects

Duel: Alexander Hamilton, Aaron Burr and the Future of America, by Thomas Fleming—The author is one the best American writers and historians today. He brings an absorbing and tragic conflict to life by giving us a new understanding about its underlying causes. He brings new insights into the event of 1804 when two men destroyed one another. #296, hardback, 443 pages, $34.

Sworn on the Altar of God: A Religious Biography of Thomas Jefferson, by Edwing S. Gaustad—Many books have been and are being written about Jefferson. The author feels that this side, the religious side, needs to be examined and does a superb job of it. Jefferson was the most involved American president in religious questions. Dedicating himself to reform of religion, he did more to root religious liberty firmly into American tradition. He always insisted that his religious opinions were his own and no one could pry them from him. #297, paperback, 246 pages, $18.

European Volunteers in the Anglo-Boer War, by Dr. Claus Nordbruch—The book—printed in three languages, English, German and French—captures the essence of the valiant struggles of Boer farmers against the war machine of the grasping British Empire. In all, over 3,000 volunteers from Europe, of all walks of life, joined forces to prevent the theft of an entire country from her own citizens. Loaded with rare black and white photographs, paintings and drawings, it is still one of the most even-handed accounts of that travesty ever printed. #270, oversized hardcover, 249 pages, $25.

Eleanor of Aquitaine: A Life, by Alison Weir—A newly published book about this incredible woman of the Middle Ages. Renowned for her beauty, she was wife to two kings and the mother of three more kings. She exercised great influence over her husbands and sons, defying the status quo for women of her period during her long life. An irresistible personality. #302, softcover, 464 pgs., $15.95.

The Prince, by Machiavelli—Yale edition. Handbook for a kingdom, then and now. One of the great classics of all time. If you do not have it in your personal collection, you should! #162, softcover, 88 pages, just $12.

A Guide to the End of World: Everything You Never Wanted to Know, by Bill McGuire. The author, a professor of geophysical hazards at London University, writes a lively account of what lies in store for our world. On average, an asteroid large enough to destroy New York strikes the planet every 50 years. He makes a good case that we are doomed, like it or not. In the meantime, enjoy! #347, hardcover, 191 pgs., $25.

Body of Secrets, by James Bamford—The author, an intelligence expert, has written this book on the National Security Agency that contains a lengthy and very detailed section on the Israeli attack on the USS Liberty that very clearly shows its deliberateness and accuses Israel of having a "terrible record" on human rights. It is rare, if nearly impossible, to find such outspoken and detailed comment in any history book under the imprint of a major U.S publishing house like Doubleday. #286, hardcover, 720 pgs., $29. #286a, softcover, $15.

THE UNBRIDLED POWER OF WORLD ZIONISM

Waters Flowing Eastward: The War Against the Kingship of Christ—Originally written in 1931. The author, Madame Pequita de Shishmareff, who wrote under the name of L. Fry, was the widow of a Czarist officer. She lived in California in the early 1960s where she worked with future American Free Press correspondent Tony Blizzard. This is a new printing of the famous book. It is an authoritative, documented work, edited by the legendary Father Denis Fahey. It contains the complete Protocols of the Elders of Zion. #46, softcover, 286 pgs., $14.95.

The Zionist Factor, by Ivor Benson, is considered the author's most outstanding work. Newly reprinted, with a foreword by Willis Carto, it carefully explains "the mysterious relationship between Christians, Jews, capitalism and socialism" that has bedeviled all Western thinkers whether they wish to admit it or not. #195, softcover, 217 pgs., $13.95.

Conquest by Immigration: How Zionism Turned Palestine into a Jewish State, by George W. Robnett—First printed in 1968, this informative book has become a classic on the Middle East. The author breaks down chapters in chronological order with extensive sources and references. The role played by America in support of the Zionist take-over of Palestine is well documented. A good book to pass to the uninformed. #119, softcover, 407 pgs., $12.95.

The Secret Relationship Between Blacks and Jews, published by the Nation of Islam. When first published, this book caused an international uproar. The controversial, hard-to-find book has been roundly condemned by world-wide media. Relying exclusively on Jewish sources, the Nation of Islam compiled this insightful exposé of the truth about the international Black African slave trade. #112, softcover, 334 pgs., $20.95.

Jewish History, Jewish Religion by Israel Shahak—After decades of officially-sanctioned silence, many mainstream academics, both Jewish and non-Jewish, are talking more openly about Israel's ideology, society and domestic policy. To the author, a former professor at Hebrew University in Jerusalem and a former inmate of Bergen-Belsen (and Jewish), the ideology of Israeli racial separatism and supremacy is unacceptable. He briefly describes the history of the Jewish people, the power of their rabbis etc. His brief quotations from the Talmud are enough to disturb any right-thinking person. Powerful. #246, softcover, 120 pages, $19.95.

The Zionist Connection: What Price Peace? by Alfred Lilienthal—It could not have arrived in bookstores at a more appropriate time. This book, first published in 1978, is now again in print. Author-historian Alfred Lilienthal gives the background of the numerous wars that brought upheaval to the Middle East since Israel was carved out of the Palestinian's homeland. The involvement of the United States, lobbied and influenced by Zionist money, reaching into the White House, has become a precarious situation for us all. Prophetically, the author warned over 20 years ago of the resulting conditions and deterioration for the outlook for peace in that region. #279, softcover, 870 pages, $30.

The Bunche Report: A Summary of Zionist Terrorism in the Mid-East, 1944-1948—Reprint of an official United Nations report on 259 separate acts of terrorism and murder against Palestinians from November 6, 1944, through September 17, 1948, by the Israelis. Suppressed for 49 years, this is the famous report compiled by Ralph Bunche. #20, 8.5" x 11", $7.50.

Iron Curtain Over America, by Col. John Beaty. This classic "tell-all" exposé of the forces at work destroying our Christian heritage is even more relevant today than in the 1950s. Having spent five years in military intelligence, the author unabashedly defends Christianity and uncovers hidden forces of destruction. #135, softcover, 267 pgs., $12.

Facts are Facts, by Ben Freedman.—This is one of the finest writings of Freedman. Converted from Judaism to Catholicism, Freedman was a passionate and articulate defender of the West. He wrote a long letter of 62 pages to a prominent Jew in 1954, regarding the historical lies the Zionists have palmed off on society. His analysis dissects the Talmud, with some amazing quotes. #47, softcover, 80 pgs., $7.50.

Suppressed Books by Quigley

Tragedy and Hope, by Carroll Quigley—This famous history of the world in our time, first published in 1966, immediately became an object of suppression. The author, a history professor, exposes the secret world of government. The Council of Foreign Relations tried to stop publication. Now reprinted in a handsome edition. #37, hardback, 1,348 pgs., $40.

The Anglo-American Establishment, by Carroll Quigley—This is the author's little-known book that explores in-depth how this conspiratorial nexus works, its personalities, aims and organizations such as the CFR, that are only touched upon in his much better-known and massive work, Tragedy and Hope. Indexed. Deluxe edition. #199, softcover, 354 pgs., $13.95.

One Palestine, Complete: Jews and Arabs Under the British Mandate, by Tom Segev. The author, an Israeli historian-journalist who writes for Israel's leading newspaper Ha'aretz brings a thorough accounting of the movers and shakers who were involved in the formation of the state of Israel. It is unusual in that it is actually a fair rendition of the path to glory and mayhem that led the world into a powder keg yet to be resolved. The British, with their usual perfidy, played both sides to the hilt. The book is easy to read and offers interesting insights generally not known. Overall a great book of references and at the same time a thorough history starting at the turn of the century, ending with 1948 and the founding of the Jewish state. #307, softcover, 612 pgs., $18.95.

The Estonian Viking Division of the Waffen SS

The Estonian Narva Battalion was the first and best fighting unit fielded by this small Baltic nation as part of a German-led crusade to defeat communism. Fully motorized and equipped with heavy support weapons, it was able to take its place in the multinational SS Viking Division. Compiled by military historian Richard Landwehr. Filled with rare photos and insights. 8.5 x 11 softcover format, 78 pages, #363, $20.

WORLD STRUGGLE, WAR & REVOLUTION

The Struggle for World Power, by George Knupffer—Back in print, this is an amazing and prophetic book. The author, born in Russia, first had this book published in 1958. For over 40 years he studied revolutionary subversion from every angle, emphasizing the financial aspects. He suggests effective solutions, believing there is little time left to halt global enslavement. #38, softcover, 240 pgs., $12.95

The Dynamics of War and Revolution, by Lawrence Dennis—First published in 1941 when America hovered on the brink of war and Europe was already in flames, represented a milestone in American political-philosophical outlook. A great patriot with unusual prophetic vision. Limited stock! #24, softcover, 257 pgs., $18.95.

The Coming American Fascism, by Lawrence Dennis. The author condemns, among other financial evils, the national debt system. First published in 1936, in the middle of the Roosevelt revolution and five years before the war he predicted, this book was Dennis' second attempt to explain the nature of capitalism, and warn of the consequences of it. Mr. Dennis, was indicted in the infamous sedition trials—the global elite recognized an enemy! Preface by W.A. Carto. #23, softcover, 320 pgs., $18.95.

Fifteen Decisive Battles of the World, by Edward S. Creasy. This classic study appeared in 1851 and, like Gibbon's Decline and Fall, is one of the great historical works. The fifteen battles Creasy selected range from Marathon to Waterloo, including the victory of Hermann at Teutoburger Forest (TBR's cover article for its first issue of 2000), Tours, Hastings, Saratoga and nine others. Great reading and fodder for endless conversations. #231, softcover, 404 pgs., $19.95.

World War I

The Pity of War, by Niall Ferguson, professor of modern history at Oxford—In this excellent book, the myths of WWI are explored in a truly Revisionist fashion. The author lays the causes of the fatal conflict at the feet of the English; their declaration of war turned the conflict into a world war. #167, softcover, 563 pages, $18.

World War II

Roosevelt's Secret War: FDR and WWII Espionage, by Joseph E. Persico. Every year, new books appear dealing with President Franklin Delano Roosevelt. We recommend this one, although by an establishment historian, because of insides and nuances of Roosevelt's duplicity toward the American people and even those who supported him here and abroad. He was an unabashed anti-Semite, and so was his wife, until it became politically dangerous to be so. Great read; lots of good information from a rare perspective. #329, hardcover, 564 pgs., $35.

The New Dealer's War, by Thomas Fleming. This book is vitally important in explaining the reasons why FDR so closely supported Joseph Stalin. He gave the dictator everything he wanted both before and after the Second World War. The author details Roosevelt's extreme liberalism, his support of Communist aims, his placement in the highest levels of American government of known Soviet agents and his strong wish to have left wing fanatic Henry Wallace as his Vice President in 1944. #285, hardcover, 600 pgs., $35. #285a softcover $18.

Deceit at Pearl Harbor: From Pearl Harbor to Midway, by Commander Landis. A vast array has been published about Pearl Harbor since WWII. This book is unique since it was written by the last remaining member of Adm. Husband Kimmel's staff as existed on Dec. 7, 1941. Read of purposeful provocations designed to get Japan to strike the U.S. and, ignored radar warnings. Much of the content will shock its readers as the little-publicized events are revealed for the first time. #346, softcover, 270 pgs., $17.

Pearl Harbor Betrayed, by Michael Gannon. Taking up the pen to describe the scapegoating of Admiral Kimmel by the government as well as the betrayal by one he considered his comrade, General Short, the author writes a devastating account of treachery and deceit. #344, softcover, 339 pgs., $16.

Unexplained Mysteries of WWII, by William B. Breuer—Entertaining and surprising, puzzling, coincidental, curious and often uncanny vignettes that will make you smile or shake your head in wonder. Very educational and informative reading. #223, softcover, 238 pgs., $14.95.

Vietnam

The End of the Line; the Siege of Khe Sanh, by Robert Pisor. A Revisionist view of the war in Vietnam by a war correspondent, focusing on a crucial battle. Six thousand trapped Marines living a nightmare. The author delivers a compelling picture of the history, the politics, the strategies and the desperate reality of this battle that became the turning point of the United States involvement in Vietnam. Anybody attracted to the again fashionable delusion that the United States might have "won" in Vietnam ought to read and meditate upon The End of the Line. #283, softcover, 320 pgs., $14.95.

The Warriors of the Reich

Panzer Grenadier, by Hans Schmidt. In his fast-paced memoir, the author writes clearly and concisely about his personal experiences in the elite German forces, the Waffen SS. #318, hardcover, 255 pgs., $35.95.

Memoirs of Grand Admiral Karl Doenitz: Ten Years and Twenty Days—Karl Doenitz has been called a Nazi and also been praised as one of the most honorable military leaders of WWII. Sentenced to 10 years at Nuremberg for what one judge later described as “doing nothing, for that he got 10 years,” the admiral wrote his memoirs upon his release. #163, softcover, 250 pgs., $19.95.

Twelve Years With Hitler—A History of 1. Kompanie Leibstandarte SS Adolf Hitler, edited by Hans Quassowski. A very personal account by members of this elite organization of their war experiences. A truly moving story of bravery and sacrifice, always believing in the good of their cause. A wonderful illustrated edition with 60 photos and over 30 maps. A meaningful gift for any man. 9 x 12 size, #343, hardcover, 320 pgs., $69.95

Fighter Aces of the Luftwaffe, by Col. Raymond F. Tolliver and Trevor G. Constable—The greatest flying aces of the Luftwaffe come to life in this heavily detailed and documented over-sized coffee table book. Contains sections on every fighter ace, their histories and kills. Also includes a section on the Luftwaffe's attempts to perfect the jet and the German rocket program. Lavish illustrations. Size 8.5" x 11." Detailed information. Deluxe edition. #16, hardback, 330 pgs., $50.

Erich Hartmann: German Fighter Ace—The fascinating life story of the world's highest scoring ace ever: 352 aerial victories. Large photo album format. Covers his early years in China to the end of the war and captivity in Russian camps and his participation in the postwar German air force. Deluxe edition. #218, hardback, 296 pgs., $35.

Otto Skorzeny: My Commando Operations—This riveting book describes with dramatic detail many of the daring operations led by Skorzeny, the most famous of which was the rescue of Mussolini from Gran Sasso castle where the Italian communists had imprisoned him. Previously unknown operations during WWII are also recounted with additional insights into German and Russian covert military intelligence. Deluxe edition. #130, hardback, 272 pgs., $35.

Fighter General, the Life of Adolf Galland, by Col. Raymond Tolliver and Trevor J. Constable. This is the official biography of one of the most dramatic and, later into the war, controversial personalities within the Luftwaffe. Promoted at 29 to general, Galland's battles against the Allies are no less dramatic than his head-on battles with Hitler and Goering. Made head of the fighter pilots, Galland had to survive a maze of conflicts with the bureaucracy. Blamed for the defeat of the Luftwaffe, only Hitler's intervention saved him from suicide. He survived the war, and made many public appearances. Size is 8.5" x 11" with over 140 photos. Richly illustrated. #134, hardback, 216 pgs., $45.

The Legion Condor 1936-1939, by Karl Ries & Hans Ring—For the first time this classic appears in English. It covers the history of the volunteer unit that fought with pro-Franco forces during the Spanish Civil War. Flying aces such as Werner Molders and Adolf Galland first earned their wings as members of the Legion Condor. #299, oversized hardback, 288 pgs., $37.50.

Panzer Leader, by General Heinz Guderian. First published in 1952, this book has been reprinted numerous times. It is a singular account of an up-right man who did everything he could for his country. Hitler relieved him of his post in December 1941 when they disagreed about military strategy in Russia. He later received other positions within the Wehrmacht. Detailed reports of conversations with Hitler are included. #332, softcover, 528 pgs., $19.

Fighting for Freedom, by Richard Landwehr—One day, the abysmal general ignorance and misconceptions regarding the Waffen SS will be replaced by the truth. Then, the contributions of Richard Landwehr to history will be recognized. This is his latest book, the story of the Ukrainian Volunteer Division, which fought side by side for a free Europe with other volunteers from countries around the globe. #49, hardback, 224 pgs., $24.95.

Hess: The Fuehrer's Disciple, by Peter Padfield. A great historical treasure trove, critical of all sides, not just the German side. Good insight into European politics before the outbreak of the war. The flight of Rudolf Hess to England to prevent war remains an unresolved mystery. Hess was a victim of his own decency. This is a touching but not always sympathetic biography of Hess and the tragic events in his life from beginning to end, murdered in Spandau prison. #328, softcover, 402 pgs., $24.95.

The Lehrplan—The first and only English translation of Heinrich Himmler's instruction manual for the young SS volunteers and members of the Nazi police force. Includes sections on Germany's role as traditional defender of Europe, the mission of the SS and more. Translation by Carl Hottelet. Period photos and art. #9, softcover, 89 pages, $8.95.

Revisionist VIDEOS on All Aspects of History

Hitler's Last U-Boat, U 234. A recreation of the U-234's final voyage brings light into the puzzle of what became of the U Boat's load of 1200 pounds of uranium oxide. Many interviews with crew members and Americans who had knowledge of the fate of the cargo. #353, 56 minutes, $24.95.

Third Reich in Color brings subjects from festivals, Hitler's inner circle, Goebbels' children at play, day-to-day life of the German soldiers, clips from almost every major campaign and much more. English commentary. #352, 100 minutes, $29.95.

The Laconia Incident—A German submarine sank the Cunard liner Laconia in September 1942. They realized too late that it carried Italian prisoners of war and allied civilians. Includes interviews with survivors as well as photographs of American bomber attacks while the German crew tried to rescue the survivors. #293, 50 minutes, $19.95.

Television Under the Swastika—Rare footage of German TV productions between 1935 and 1944. Evening news, interviews and sport coverage as well as racial programming. Offering an unusual view of the Third Reich trying to utilize the fledgling TV industry. #294, 54 minutes, $29.95.

Firestorm Over Dresden is an account of the firebombing of Dresden from eyewitnesses who somehow escaped the most dastardly and cowardly attack on a civilian population ever perpetrated. Historian David Irving combines these interviews with archival pre-war film footage and information from Winston Churchill's private diaries to help explain the event of terror. In addition to the great loss of lives, much wonderful art and architecture was destroyed in Dresden, this "Florence on the Elbe River." #90, VHS, 77 minutes, $29.95.

Triumph of the Will, Germany, 1934—Still banned in Germany, this extraordinary blend of art, directing and cinematography by the famous Leni Riefenstahl is a marvel one won't come across again. The subject of the film is the 1934 session of the Nazi Party congress at Nuremberg. Awe-inspiring in its dimension, it is a "must see." English subtitles. A printed translation of the speeches is also included as an extra bonus. #115, VHS, 115 minutes, $29.95.

Olympiad: Festival of the People, Germany 1938—A Leni Riefenstahl production of the documentary of the 1936 Berlin Olympic games, the greatest sports documentary ever produced. #148, Part I, 111 minutes, $29.95.

Olympiad, Part II—#160, 90 minutes, $29.95.

The Wonderful, Horrible Life of Leni Riefenstahl. The title of this newly-offered video is quite misleading. Leni, 90 years old when she collaborated with the film makers, had a wonderful life until 1945. After the war she was persecuted, prosecuted and damned in general by the media. Because she had made wonderful, stirring documentaries in Germany at the request of Hitler, she became a pariah later. The video shows us that she is still a feisty, opinionated woman today. We learn of her life from her early years as an actress, who then discovers her true talent to be the work behind the camera. It is a compelling tale, much information that is new, a historic record of a woman's life, the best female movie director in the world. German language, English subtitles and narrator. #237, two tapes, 180 minutes, $39.95.

EPIC: The Story of the Waffen SS—Narrated by the legendary hero of the Waffen SS, General Leon Degrelle, the video gives a complete historical background leading up to WWII. This is the story of the incredible and almost unknown (in the U.S.) fighting force. We learn how and why it was started, the non-German, European men who joined this elite army of 1 million volunteers to fight communism and its many victories won against stiff odds. A documentary that will enlighten and astound you. English voice-over. #117, VHS color, 90 minutes, $22.95.

Elite German Forces of WWII—From the Waffen SS to the Elite Mountain Division, this film examines training and battle history of special German forces. Former German soldiers discuss life in the ranks and historians discuss the lasting effects of military strategies pioneered by these forces. #158, VHS, 50 minutes, $24.95.

The Eye of the Third Reich—The subject of this film, Walter Frentz, was a personal cameraman for Adolf Hitler. This story has been woven with interviews with Frentz, excerpts from Frentz's diary and many samplings of his work. Views of Hitler, German military sites, his personal visitors and the inner circle at the Reich Chancellery. See the Fuehrer's headquarters and unique footage of a party in Hitler's bomb shelter. A great documentary with excellent photography. English voice-over. #93, VHS, 91 minutes, $29.95.

The Eye of Vichy, by Claude Chabrol, famous French film director. This is a composition of footage and newsreels produced by the Germans and their French collaborators during German occupation of France. Marshall Petain, head of the French government, tried everything in his power to safeguard French lives after the surrender to Germany. He collaborated because there were no options and was well respected except, of course, by the Communists and the Allies. These movies are astonishing in that they show how well off the French people were during those years. The assault came from the British, who continued bombing their towns and villages. #240, VHS, 110 minutes, $32.95.

Italian-American Internment: A Secret War—Everyone knows that Japanese-Americans were interned during WWII but little is said about European-Americans, including Italian-Americans, who, having lived in this country for generations, were still driven out of their homes and placed in internment camps. Interviews and archival footage make for informative viewing. #290, 56 minutes, $19.95.

Charlemagne—The life of medieval Europe's legendary figure is dramatized in this saga of passion, betrayal and political intrigue. His struggle to become Holy Roman Emperor, his battles and his achievements are depicted in this five hour video set. #300, 5 videos, 1 hr. ea. $69.95.

The Mystery of the First American: The Saga of the Kennewick Man—Just who made it to America first? The answer may surprise you. This video explores the discovery of the 9,000-year-old Kennewick Man skeleton and the implications of this find on the accepted theories of the populating of the Americas. The skeleton, you see, is that of a male of an ancient Caucasoid race. Also details American Indian and Establishment efforts—with the help of President Clinton—to bury the find under tons of rubble—in essence, to hide the truth about the origins of the first Americans. #243, VHS, 100 minutes, $20.95.

Prague '68: The Lost Film of the Soviet Invasion of Czechoslovakia—When Soviet troops invaded in 1968, native cameramen filmed surreptitiously, but the movies disappeared until just recently. #349, 37 minutes, $29.95.

Scipio Africanus: The Defeat of Hannibal—Made in Italy in 1937 with the approval of Mussolini, it was at that time the most expensive Italian film ever made. Drawing upon Rome's imperial past, it justified Italian expansion. #350, 85 minutes, $29.95.

Propaganda Swing: Dr. Goebbels Jazz Orchestra—During the war the Germans created a jazz band with the finest jazz players in Europe. Combining hit parades with pro-German, anti-Jewish lyrics sung in English, these musicians became extremely popular abroad and in Germany. Very informative, educational and enjoyable listening. #351 60 minutes, $29.95.

The Victor Ostrovsky Video—Former Mossad officer Victor Ostrovsky lectured at THE BARNES REVIEW's first international conference September 11, 1995. He frankly describes the criminal nature of the Mossad, including its dirty tricks, espionage, torture, murder and scams, all with the unlimited backing of your politicians. Shortly after his lecture, and finding it impossible to publish anything else, Ostrovsky withdrew from public life. This video is a final statement of what this brave man tried to accomplish. #111, VHS, 110 minutes, $22.95.

The Final Judgment/ Gestapo Chief Video gives you the opportunity to own a full 2-hour videocassette of two of the world's most daring authors discussing two of the decade's most important works: Final Judgment: The Missing Link in the JFK Assassination Conspiracy, by journalist Michael Collins Piper and Gestapo Chief author Gregory Douglas dissecting the enigma of Heinrich Mueller and the conspiracies designed to keep the information from the public. #102, VHS, 110 minutes, $15.
